Greater Washington Partnership Statement on Monumental Sports & Entertainment Expansion to Alexandria, Va.

WASHINGTON, DC (December 13, 2023) – Kathy Hollinger, CEO of the Greater Washington Partnership, issued the following statement today on Monumental Sports & Entertainment’s expansion into Alexandria, Va:

“Today’s announcement is very significant and signals our strength, innovation and growth as a region. At the heart of this is Monumental Sports & Entertainment and Ted Leonsis who have been and will continue to be a critical anchor for the entire Greater Washington region, with a legacy of delivering world-class experiences to fans and residents across our region. With this announcement, we’re entering a new chapter in sports excellence.

Generating nearly 30,000 new jobs and $12 billion in economic benefits from mixed-use and transit-oriented development, this project signals our region’s global competitiveness by demonstrating adaptability, innovation, and place-based planning aligned with the evolving dynamics of a regional economy. This new development, along with Monumental’s continued ongoing commitments to Capital One Arena, are even more critical to remain competitive as a sports capital for our region. The relocation to National Landing will usher in a new dimension in efforts to reimagine our region’s downtown corridors from Baltimore to Richmond.

Our job at Greater Washington Partnership will be to continue to work with leading employers and stakeholders to ensure revitalization, development, continued economic growth and prosperity will benefit residents and businesses throughout our region.”
