

Communications Intern

Greater Washington Partnership (the Partnership) is a cross-sector alliance of leading employers in Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia committed to championing the region's economic growth and prosperity.

The Partnership is seeking a skilled and motivated individual to support the Marketing, Events & Communications (MarComm) team. This individual will support media research, content development, social media, event management and other tasks as needed. This person will work with internal stakeholders to expand the organization's marketing, events and communications capabilities.

Core Responsibilities

- Compile and distribute daily news articles
- Draft written content for social media, blog posts, press materials and reports
- Monitor and measure social media to aid outreach efforts and inform strategy
- Support external affairs and communications strategy meetings
- Assist in building communications and outreach plans for reports and research products
- Assist with media outreach for events and product releases
- Support events by monitoring attendance response, reviewing event-related documents, and providing communications support in the lead-up and during the event
- Support marketing efforts by assisting senior team members
- Assist in production of the organization's monthly newsletter

This position can be part-time or full-time. The Partnership is currently operating in a hybrid work environment with two days a week on Tuesdays and Thursdays required in-person at our Washington, DC office (subject to change in number of days and days of the week). The candidate should be available to begin in September and must be able to commit until December 19, 2024. The selected intern will receive an hourly wage of $20.

The Communications Intern will receive weekly 1:1 mentoring from senior MarComm team members. Working with the Director of Marketing and Communications, the Communications Intern will produce a professional development plan to chart goals for their internship that support the enhancement of their professional skillset, portfolio of work and network.

Qualifications

- Past experience supporting a communications, public relations or marketing team
- Excellent verbal communication skills
- Ability to thrive in a fluid, fast-paced entrepreneurial environment

- Organized, detail-oriented, outgoing individual with demonstrated ability to multi-task and achieve high-performance objectives
- Pursuing or completed a bachelor's or master's degree in communications, marketing, public relations, journalism, political science or related degrees

Who We Are
